• BRYANT BRIDGE GATEWAY GOLDEN ALE •

This straw-colored Golden beer is capped with a pillowy white head and is light on the tongue. Soft stone fruits flows into the flavor with more peach and citrus. Low hop levels give this beer a light and delicate finish. We recommend this brew to those just venturing into craft beer or anyone looking for a refreshing thirst quencher. Durham's Bryant Bridge crosses over Rt. 147 and is the bridge lighted with blue LED lights at night. It is the gateway to the Bull City and this is our gateway to drinking craft beer. This ale is available year round. Approx. 4.5% ABV

HOPS: Goldings, Willamette

• PARRISH STREET PALE ALE •

This Pale Ale-style beer has an alluring autumn hue. Aromas of caramel, orange zest and light floral hops greet the nose. There is a pleasant sweet malt character up front followed quickly by apricot. The finish is crisp and hoppy, providing a nice counterpoint to the malt. Sporting a fuller body, it is richer and hoppier than our Golden Ale. Despite the name "pale," this style of beer is darker in color than our Golden Ale. Parrish Street was known as "Black Wall Street" with many black owned local businesses located on Parrish. Approx. 5.0% ABV

HOPS: Northern Brewer, Goldings and Fuggles

• LITTLEN HORNY (A SMALL BEER) •

This is the first beer in a three part series. First, we make our Barley Wine (a high alcohol beer, no grapes involved) of which half will be served in January 2017 and served as "Youngen Horny." The other half will be aged in a French Cognac barrel and served in January 2018 as "Olden Horny." And in the traditional parti-gyle manner, we brewed a "small beer" i.e. low alcohol, easy to drink beer, from the grain left over from our barley wine. This beer we drink now while our barley wines age. Littlen is pale in color, light-bodied, moderately hopped, 4% ABV and a delicious session ale. The names all come from the reference to a bull's horns of course.

• "GOAT" BULLOCK BOCK •

A true German style Bock beer. This Lager was aged for over six weeks and was brewed with Munich malt and traditional German hops. The Bock style is light amber/brown in color with a medium-full body, rich and malty. The word Bock means Goat in German. The famous 1965/66 Hillside High School basketball team featured John "Goat" Bullock and a standout on the famous "Pony Express" team. With potential to become one of the greatest of NBA players, Goat scored 42 points in the championship game, then left for NY and was never seen again. HOPS: Northern Brewer, Hallertauer

• HOMEBREW WINNER 2016 •

Congratulations to Mike Thompson along with help from his wife Virginia for creating the winning recipe in our Homebrew Competition 2016. Mike's Great Pyr Beer White IPA recipe won our annual event. Brewed with Pilsen malt, two different types of wheat, a Belgian yeast strain, coriander, fresh orange peel and plenty of aromatic hops, this beer is a joyful collision of the IPA and Belgian wheat ale styles. The Great Pyr is straw colored, unfiltered and hazy, with spicy and citrusy aromas. The hops start off as citrus and pine in the aroma, then come through in the flavor as juicy tangerine and grapefruit, and finally leave a long and pleasant bitterness on the finish. Thanks to all of the participants who submitted entries to our Homebrew Competition, all entry fees are donated to the Movember Foundation. Start crafting your next Competition submission now, and we will see you in September! Approx. 6.0% ABV

HOPS: Nugget, Citra, Centennial, Cascade

• HEN PECK ROWBUST PORTER •

A robust porter is a bold, powerful and brooding dark ale. Taking the lighter English-style porter and turning it up to 11, we present the BCBB version of the American Robust Porter category. Expressive chocolate, black coffee and bittersweet roast notes abound, this beer comes in at around 6.5% ABV with plenty of body and a full palate of rich flavor. The finish is lightly syrupy with bitter notes of charcoal, ash and prune. A beer with aging potential that will continue to evolve daily while on tap. Hen Peck Row was one of Durham's original street names and was later renamed Dillard Street in the Cleveland-Holloway neighborhood. Approx. 6.5% ABV

HOPS: Fuggles and Centennial

• WHISKEY BARREL AGED DURHAMER ALE •

From the ground up, the Durhammer was created as a new style of beer and is Durham's signature flavor. We aim to use NC grown hops, Durham water and the color is reminiscent of Burley air-cured chestnut colored tobacco. We took a small portion of this batch of Durhammer and aged it in whiskey barrels to give this new style of beer another added layer of complexity. The beer started with a biscuity flavor, and the time spent in barrels added notes of vanilla, caramel and toasted wood. The hops have mellowed to the point of almost non-existence, allowing the whiskey and malt characteristics of the beer to blend with each other and dominate the flavor. Styles have been created around the world by using local ingredients and then defined by tradition. This is a limited release, enjoy it while you can. Sorry, no towers, growlers or pitchers on this one. Approx. 5.8% ABV

HOPS: Nugget, Mt. Hood, Willamette

• SNOW HILL WINTER WARMER ALE 2016 •

Our Winter Warmer is based on the American style of Barley Wine, focusing on much higher IBUs (bitterness level) vs. the British counter part. Showing more hops and even more carbonation than a typical British version, we also incorporated a secret spice blend which changes every year - lemon peel, ginger and vanilla this year. Hoppy and soul warming, the rich malt and full-bodied goodness jump from the glass finishing with aromatic Simcoe hop character along with some citrus fruit and spice. We loaded up the hops for the hop heads and leave our spice flavors as a backdrop canvas. Approx. 8% ABV. In 1749, a 400 acre grant to James Rae became known as the Snow Hill complex. Today this is part of northern Durham County and the Little River Community. Served in a tulip glass. Growlers available +$3 each, on this big beer. Sorry, no towers of beer power on this one. HOPS: Nugget, Simcoe
